"Washington, Oct. 23, 1905.

"My Dear Judge Flammer—I congratulate you upon your withdrawing from the race for the District-Attorneyship. It was public spirited and wise, and shows the qualities which have made you such a good pluge and such a good citizen.

"The selection of a District Attorney is not so much a question of one party against another as it is of all honest people against all the crooks and criminals of every kind. Jerome now seems to have a good chance of ection, and his election would be a great thing for New York. He has vigor and fearlessnoss and enthusiasm in the cause of justice and hates a third and cannot be hushed up or put to sleep by any influence whatsoever. Every man who cares about having a decent, law-abiding town ought to be for him. I am always my dear Judge, faithfully yours, ELIHU ROOT."

makers organization of this city had made repeated efforts to stop the use of counterfeit labels by unscrupulous manufacturers and dealers. Invariably every complaint made to the District-Attorney was ignored.

"The committee in charge brought several cases to the attention of Mr. Jerome, and, on April 7, 1902, he prosecuted, convicted and sent to jail Albert Goldman for offering for sale 20,000 counterfeit union labels, and who openly boasted that he had sufficient political pull to secureh is discharge.

"On July 23, 1903, District-Attorney Jerome secured the conviction of Charles W. Solomon, who was sent to prison and who was also fined $100 for selling clears bearing counterfeit label. He also boasted of his great political pull, and politicians of both parties made every effort to save him, but of no avail.

"On May 19, 1904, Jerome secured the conviction of Gustav Salzman, who was also fined and sent to jail for selling clears with a counterfeit label.

"These convictions have resulted to the great benefit of the cigar makers' organization, and had a wholesome effect upon this class of swindlers throughout the country."

that the responsibility for failure may fail." Nothing is said in the decree about the Premier or Ministers being restonsible to the National Assembly of responding to interpellations, but care is taken to consolidate the power in the hands of the Premier, or, as he is termed. President of the Cabines, and especially to prevent an individual Minister from going to the Emperor with a report without previously submitting it to the Premier. Should the latter not approve of a report he has the privilege of being present when the Minister presents it to the Czar and of stating his objections. This provision is designed to put an end to the practice of one Minister undermining another, which has been one of the most victous features of the old regime and the cause of unfold confusion.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.-12.15 P. M .- The prospects of the country quieting down for the present at least are much brighter to-day. While the revolutionary spirit is abroad the masses of the reds seem to reason that they have reached the end of their tether, and they are atraid to push matters to the point of fallure.

The students, Social Democrats and strike leaders here in St. Petersburg finding that they will soon be in the minority, have made a virtue of new cessity and have declared the strike off, beginning to-morrow.

The leaders of the railroad men have not yet formally surrendered, but trains are already running on the Moscow and otherlines, and the backbone of the strike seems to be broken.

The circular continns a fac-simile of Reserves handwriting as it appeared on the worthless checks he passed on Leo Barnett, the James street clothier, on Dr. M. C. Conner, from which he realized in cash $29. A charge of larceny is based on the passing of these checks.

In addition to the later reward a reward of $500 was offered previously for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the murderer or the Olivey Dothers and Alice Ingerick. Detective Fuller, of the Pinkertons, states that he has conclusive evidence shewing that Rogers intended to commit the crime and that this evidence, he said, is backed by affidavits.
